9 Ways to Support Your Child’s Bilingualism
Even when you don’t speak a second language.

- Challenge yourself to learn a new language to role model learning.
- Praise your children for speaking in Spanish.
- Encourage them to share what they learned in school and have them teach you.
- Play Spanish music, look for books on tape at the library, watch videos.
- Share why being bilingual matters to you.
- Have them read to you in Spanish, teach you sounds, cognates.
- Share stories of other languages your family speaks or spoke in other generations.
- Explore language learning apps together.
- Celebrate bilingualism!